Shocking Cruelty to a Child. A MAN AND HIS WIFE ON TRIAL FOR THE MUR-

DER OF A THIRTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL. A telegram from Scranton, Pa., April 21, says The trial of John McAndrews and his wife on the charge of murder, in having caused the death of a thirteen-year-old girl, Mary Ganghan, who had been intrusted to them some time

The boy said that for about a month after he and his sister were adopted by McAndrews they were treated very well. Then his sister began to be abused by the entire family. She was sent long distances in her bare feet in frosty weather for water and coal. After a while she was not permitted to occupy a bed, but was made to sleep on the floor on a bed made of made bags with no covering over her. This had meal bags, with no covering over her. This bed she occupied until the day she died. Her chief clothing was a thin calico dress. Her diet con-sisted entirely of mush, which she made her-self, and was compelled to eat from a pail on the floor with her fingers. At no time since last fall was she permitted to wear shoes or

On the Saturday evening before she died Mc-Andrews heated a poker until it was red and rubbed it upon her teeth, saying that it her ghost returned to this world after her death he would be able to identify her. On Sunday he asked her where she would like to be buried, and she replied with her father. Frank last saw his sister at 5 o'clock on the morning of her death. She was lying on the floor, and had no bedelothing over her. She asked him to lift her head upon a pillow and to place the family dog upon her feet to keep them warm. The children of the house maltreated her, and one day puta bit in her mouth and chased her around the house. Frank complained of this treat-ment to McAndrews, but the latter replied that they might kill her for all he cared. The Sunday before she died McAndrews removed Mary's clothing, put her in a tub of water, and then beat her with a horsewhip. This terrible story was corroborated by the neighbors, and Coroner Dean, who examined the body of Mary Ganghan immediately after her death, testified that she died of starvation and neglect. Ghouls at Work.

WAYNE COUNTY, N. Y., EXCITED BY THE DIS-COVERY OF WHOLESALE GRAVE ROBBERIES. A syracuse, N. Y., special says: The entire population of Wayne county is greatly excited over the discovery of wholesale grave robberies at the almshouse. Disclosures have been made by which it is shown that for at least five years bodies have been removed from their graves. The authorities have caused a score or more of these to be opened only to find their worst fears realized. It is said that information has been obtained showing that bodies have been shipped in barrels both east and west. Last week the body of Geo. Wilbur was discovered in an unoccupied building in Lyons, the county seat. It had been thrown in at a window, as if the miscreants had become alarmed and made away with it in the quickest manner possible. The body had been buried at the almshouse only the day before. This discovery led to the investigation, which is being made quietly by the district attorney and the sheriff. It is said that in 1884 there were twenty-two deaths at the almshouse and that an officer of the institution at that time is willing to testify that at least twelve of the bodies were stolen from their graves. It is said the evidence is in the hands of the authorities going to show that graves in the Lyons cemetery nave also been desecrated. It is said that several arrests are to follow the investigation.

John A. Biglin Dead. ONE OF A FAMOUS GROUP OF SPORTING BROTH-ERS GONE.

From the New York Herald. John A. Biglin, one of the famous Biglin brothers, and the best oarsman of them all. died at his residence, No. 614 2d avenue, at midnight on Monday. He caught a bad cold some months ago, and went with his brother. Barney Biglin, to Hot Springs, Ark., but returned a few weeks since and developed pneumonia, from which he died. His brother did not come back with him, but is now on his way to this city. John Biglin was born in Columbia county, Pa., in 1842, and came to New York in 1851. The first race he ever rowed was a dou-ble scull, and he and his brother James jumped into an old boat without any preparation, but with a firm determination to knock the boasting out of the Battery boys, who thought that they could beat anything affoat. The race was to Heil Gate and return, and the Biglin boys scored the first of the series of successes which afterward made them famous throughout the United States, This was in 1856, and after this John, with his brothers, James, Barney and Philip, formed a four-oared crew, which rowed against nearly all the first-class oarsmen in the country. At Poughkeepsie, in 1865, the brothers met a crew mposed of Bill Stevens, Homer Woodin, John Best and Ezekiel Benway, and in a great race for $3,000 a side and the championship of the United States, they were successful, and have never since been defeated where all of them rowed, although in the same year with the Poughkeepsie race Barney and John rowed in a oat with Eckerson and Blew, and were beaten by the Ward brothers. John Bigiin all the while kept up his practice as a single sculler, and one of his greatest achievements was the deteat of Ellis Ward at Nyack in 1872 in a race for $1,000. In July, 1873, he defeated him again in a race over a nve mile course at Springfield, Mass., but on this occasion Ward was suffering from illness. In the same year Biglin was beaten on a five mile course in Canada by George Brown. He and Barney rowed Harry Coulter and Louis Cavitt in a pair-oar contest in 1872 for $2,000, and defeated them in 32m. 1s. John Biglin's last race was rowed at Rockaway three years ago with Ten Eyck, of Peeks-How He Robbed His Employers.

A CLERK WHO STOLE $16,000 BY USE OF CHECKS ENTRUSTED TO HIM. A special from New York, April 21, says: Raiph P. Barber, who for six years has been treasurer of the H. O. Barnard Manufacturing company, dealers in straw goods at Broadway and Prince street, was a prisoner in Jefferson Market to-day, charged with having stolen $16,000 from his employers. The company ound that its account books did not balance, and, fastening the cause on Barber, asked De-tective Sergeants Doian and Heidelberg to find him. The detectives learned that Barber's wife owned a house in Englewood, N. J., but that Barber was frequently away from home at night on the plea of press of business. They also learned that he seldom stopped at the office later than 4 or 5 p.m. They traced him to 138 Mercer street, Jersey City, where he had been living with Miss Gracie Ricard and paying $80

a month rent for the house.

After his arrest Barber confessed that he had stolen $16,000, and had lost all but $2,300 of it in grain speculations. The $2,300 he had deposited with Ashwell & Co., brokers, at 96 Spring street. There was found there, however. only $1,800, which was turned over to the Bar-nard Company. Mr. Barnard had the fullest confidence in Barber, and entrusted him with signed blank checks to fill out. It was by the use of these checks that the money was stolen. Barber stole about $2,000 for the first four years, $4,000 last year and $4,000 this year. He received a salary of $3,000 a year. He is 57 years old. Justice Duffy held him for trial in default of $10,000 bail.

W. W. Gilman, the eccentric millionaire tanneries at Gilman's, Sullivan county, N. Y., and died there a few months ago in a dilapidated building in which he lived, brought to his home a short time before he died a thirteen-year-old girl whom he called Blanche Gilman. After he died a document was found among his papers declaring that the girl was his daughter, and that it was his wish that she should have $30,000 out of his estate. His heirs, while asserting that this document is not in any sense a will, offered no opposition to its being admitted to probate when it was offered last week, and will respect it as expressive of the wishes of the deceased man and allow the girl the amount. Who the mother of the child is does not appear, but the heirs do not deny her paternity.

Rained at Monte Carlo.

THE ERIE WOMAN WHO WAS DRIVEN TO SUICIDE BY LOSSES AT THE GAMING TABLE. perate attempt of Mrs. Jennie Whitcomb to take her life on account of heavy losses at the Line, Mediterranian, by calling upon their agent, gaming table at Monte Carlo has been supplemented by a letter to a relative. Mrs. Whitcomb was formerly a Miss Jennie Smith, and tived near Erie, Pa. She was an assistant principal in the Conneautville academy early in the sixties. She alterwards married O. P. Whitcomb, a millionaire lumberman, in St. Paul. Minn., but their union was not a happy one, and Mrs. Whitcomb left her husband, who had been kind and indulgent. Since then she has lived in Europe, and, as the reports go, was a very prominent figure at the gaming tables in Paris' leading salons. Five years ago she was very rich, but luck turned against her and her ili-gotten gains went quicker than they were amassed. After several days and nights at the table she was left penniless and distracted. She first swallowed morphine, and, failing to destroy herself, then opened a vein in her arm with a hairpin. Being frustrated in both attempts, she then threw herself into the sea at Cannes but was recentled by a beatman. Cannes, but was rescued by a boatman and was placed in the insane asylum at that place, where she is now being treated. Friends at Erie will endeavor to have her returned there.

Dr. CHEEVER'S ELECTRIC BELT, or Regenera tor, is made expressly for the cure of derangements of the procreative organs. Whenever any debility of the generative organs occurs, from whatever cause, the continuous stream of electricity permeating through the parts must restore them to healthy action. There is no mistake about this instrument Years of use have tested it, and thousands of cures are testified to. Weakness from Indiscretion, Incapacity, Lack of Vigor, Sterility—in fact, any trouble of these organs is cured. Do not confound this with electric belts advertised to cure all ills from bead to toe.
